

The background of the entire image is a low-angle, close-up shot of cannabis plants. The leaves and stems are silhouetted against a warm, orange-brown sky, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. The plants are dense and occupy most of the frame. In the center, there is a white, rounded rectangular dialog box with a thin grey border. This dialog box contains three text elements: a title, a selected option, and a cancel button.

Notes

- On the login screen it will automatically know if the users email is attached to an account. Therefore logging them in.
- This app will be designed to be proactive. Meaning as the user shops it learns more about the user to tailor products to them. Ex. A customer who buys only edibles and cosmetics will see more of those in their searches.
- Profiles are designed to let the user shop separately from their main account. This allows them to shop for others while keeping their profile learnings intact.

Future Features

- This will not be in the Initial Release
